Rok KOKALJ
Nevron d.o.o.
CEO

Already as a student Rok Kokalj worked at the Centre of Electronic Commerce, where ha was fully employed in 1998 as a researcher, mostly in the field of e-learning. His area of research was the methodology and didactics in developing of e-learning courses and effective using of education technology. Part of his work description was also lecturing about e-learning to the students.

In 2000 Rok Kokalj and Simon Bergant established Nevron d.o.o., which was the first e-learning solution provider in Slovenia. Nevron (www.nevron.si) is now known as a company with most experiences in the filed of e-learning in Slovenia.

They provide consultant services on e-learning implementation; development of e-learning content; provide e-learning technical support (hosting, help-desk, etc..) and -are also the administrator of the largest Slovenian e-learning portal www.spletna-akademija.com

He was personally involved in all Nevron d.o.o. e-learning projects, mostly as a consultant on e-learning or a project manager. At the moment he is the project coordinator and author of Slovenian national e-learning strategy (2006-2013), which was initialized from the Slovenian Ministry of Higher Education, Science and Technology.

They have also developed free e-learning development SCORM compliant tool easyCoBu for teachers and authors with basic computer skills, which will be free to download from 01-09-2006.
